Othman Aljeda
Chief Executive
Officer in Asia
Aramex

Othman Aljeda is the Chief Executive Officer in Asia for Aramex, one of the leading global providers of logistics and transportation solutions, currently listed on the Dubai Financial Market (DFM: ARMX).

Mr. Aljeda holds a BA from Richmond University, United Kingdom and has completed a number of executive development and management programs namely from the Business School of Wharton University in Pennsylvania, USA.

Mr. Aljeda started his career with Aramex in 1994 as a management trainee and after completing the program relocated to Qatar as General Manager. Mr. Aljeda was then promoted to General Manager of Saudi Arabia, to spearhead Aramex's entry into the Saudi Market, and later became the Vice President for Saudi Arabia, Upper Gulf, South Asia and the Far East. In 2007, Mr. Aljeda relocated to Singapore as CEO for Asia where he set up a regional office to develop the expansion programs across Asia.

He is an active member of the company's Global Management Team and sits on several boards related to logistics and transportation in South Asia and Asia Pacific. Mr. Aljeda is also active with several universities that participate in programs for MBA students in the field of Logistics.