

THOMAS KIPP
Chief Operating Officer

Mr. Kipp joined Aramex as the Chief Operating Officer in November 2020. He is responsible for overseeing Aramex’s global operations, business development, improving operational efficiencies, and championing crucial process improvements, in line with the Company’s long-term growth strategy. He brings over 25 years of experience across Logistics, e-Commerce and Management Consulting in Europe, Asia and North America.

Prior to joining Aramex, Mr. Kipp spent nearly 15 years as a divisional board member with Deutsche Post DHL Group where, most recently, he served as Executive Vice President, Corporate Incubations based in Bonn, Germany. In this role, he was responsible for setting up a completely new division for the development of new business models outside the core business of DPDHL Group.

Prior to this role, Mr. Kipp was Executive Vice President, Strategy and Business Development for the Post, e-Commerce and Parcel (PeP) division, where he managed strategic projects, developed and implemented technology-based process improvements and managed the brand.

He was the mastermind behind the "PeP Start-up Play" and "Digital Roadmap" concepts and enabled crucial process improvements to secure revenues through technology and data analytics. Before that, he was the CEO of DHL e-Commerce, where he developed e-Commerce services in core markets outside Europe, substantially improving EBIT performance in the USA and India, establishing nationwide B2C delivery networks in South East Asia and boosting growth in cross-border e-Commerce shipment volumes in China.

From 2009 - 2014, he was the CEO at DHL Global Mail, where he transformed the international postal business in Europe, North America and ASPAC. Prior to that, he led the successful transition of the Deutsche Post Sales organization into the liberalized German Postal market.

Before joining DPDHL Group, he held senior leadership roles in global organizations like Monitor Deloitte and BMW Group.

Mr. Kipp holds an MBA from Westfaelische Wilhelms Universitaet in Muenster, Germany.
